Piper Alderman supports Kick for Cancer

Representatives from national law firm Piper Alderman took part in the Kick for Cancer fundraising initiative to raise money for cancer research, treatment and support services.

Tony Abbott, Miles Crawley and Tracey Kerrigan all dusted off their running shoes to join in the final part of the 760 km journey from Port Lincoln to Adelaide on 26 April 2008.

Former Glenelg SANFL footballer Richard Crosby masterminded the event, when together with a group of friends he resolved to kick a football along the 760 km route from Port Lincoln to Adelaide. Supported by local business, including Piper Alderman, their efforts over the 15 day trek helped raise over $70,000 for The Cancer Council SA and the Port Lincoln Chemotherapy Room.

Piper Alderman saw this as a fantastic opportunity to get involved in a local event with national importance, raising awareness about cancer but also demonstrating the value of health and fitness. We hope many cancer patients will benefit from everyone's hard work.

Piper Alderman's new-found athletes are now looking forward to sharing their experiences with other participants at the fundraising event, Holding the Ball, on 3 May 2008.
